CELEBRATING FORTY YEARS OF HISTORIC FLIGHT WWII BOMBER TO PERFORM AT CENTRAL TEXAS AIR SHOW

SPRING, TEXAS – In 2011 Texas Raiders, an authentically restored World War Two B-17 Bomber celebrated its fortieth year of flying for the purpose of historic preservation. This Flying Fortress will perform at the Central Texas Air Show, held at Draughon-Miller Airport in Temple, Texas May 5th and 6th, 2012. After nearly eight years of extensive restoration this B-17 Bomber became airworthy in 2009 and has flown in air shows throughout the central Midwestern United States, conducted sports-event flyovers and reunited remaining World War Two veterans with their link to the aircraft flown in the European and Pacific theatres of this historic period. To date there are just nine (9) remaining flyable B-17s left in the United States.

To date, over $600,000 of donations and sponsorship monies have been spent along with nearly 250,000 volunteer and contract hours of maintenance to bring the Bomber back into flying condition. Although the non-profit 501-(c)-3 organization, the Commemorative Air Force (CAF) is the owner of this vintage Bomber, the maintenance, restoration and operation is assigned to the Gulf Coast Wing, an all volunteer CAF membership group. It is estimated that the cost to operate this vintage Bomber is $3,000 per flying hour.

To support the flying operation of Texas Raiders, the volunteer members of the Gulf Coast Wing will be offering rides and walk-through tours at the Central Texas Air Show on Saturday, May 05 and Sunday, May 06, 2011. All donations for tours and rides are tax-deductible to the extent permitted by law.

Texas Raiders was delivered to the U.S. Army Air Force July 12, 1945 and became a member of the Commemorative Air Force's Ghost Squadron in September of 1967 and thereby assigned to the Gulf Coast Wing in 1971. Her last public flying mission prior to the restoration was November, 2001, when the National D-day Museum in New Orleans, LA celebrated its Grand Opening. She has appeared in two movies, Ike The War Years and Brady's Escape, one PBS Documentary Honor Squadrons and two television commercials. Texas Raiders is currently featured in two major Aviation publications: WARBIRDS INTERNATIONAL and FLYPAST Magazines.

Collecting, restoring and flying warbirds for more than half a century, the Commemorative Air Force ranks as one of the largest private air forces in the world. The CAF is dedicated to honoring American Military Aviation through flight, exhibition and remembrance with a flying museum of classic military aircraft. A non-profit educational association, the CAF has approximately 9,000 members and a fleet of almost 160 airplanes representing more than 60 different types – including planes from several foreign countries and military conflicts since WWII.
